

Top picks from Baselworld

01 Cosmograph Daytona

Rolex

This new version of Rolex's Oyster Perpetual Cosmograph Daytona, an iconic watch dating back to the early 1960s, features a patented Cerachrom bezel in black ceramic.

rolex.com

02 Tangente neomatik

Nomos Glashütte

The Bauhaus-inspired German brand came out with several great new pieces in its Neomatik series. This Tangente model features Nomos's new movement, the DUW 3001.

nomos-glashuette.com

03 LUC Perpetual Twin in steel

Chopard

This year marks 20 years since Chopard opened its manufacturing workshop in Fleurier – and it's where this new watch in the high-end LUC collection was made in its entirety.

chopard.com

04 Globemaster

Omega

Omega launched more than 100 new watches at Baselworld 2016 – an impressive haul. Our pick of the bunch is the new Globemaster, which is available with either a blue dial and stainless-steel case or the silvery opaline dial that features on the gold-case edition.

omegawatches.com

05 Generations Pendulum

Fromanteel

This Amsterdam-based watch brand was at Baselworld for the first time in 2016. Each of its timepieces reference the Fromanteel family, the 17th-century Flanders clock-makers who pioneered the pendulum. We'd buy the mechanical Generations Pendulum model.

fromanteel.nl